Topcon RL-H3C Automatic Laser

Topcon is the recognized leader in the manufacture of high accuracy positioning and optical products used world-wide by the construction, civil engineering and medical industries. Use the RL-H3C for setting forms, using grade control receivers, even checking the fall of a trench. It's automatic, just push the Power button on the RL-H3C and it is leveled. Automatic shut-off prevents you from working from a laser that's been moved or bumped! The laser is packaged to go right to work out of the box.
